

ABSTRACT

5 A factory scale process for producing crystalline atorvastatin calcium includes the step of drying the isolated product in a vacuum pan dryer. The vacuum pan dryer has an agitator which is continuously rotated at a speed of approximately 1 rpm. High quality material is routinely and consistently produced with reduced cycle time.